

A graduate of Savannah State University, the University Of Georgia Carl Vinson Institute Of Government Management Development Program and the University of Virginia Senior Executive Leadership Certification Program, Stephanie is known for her analytical style of management based on expectations of trust, transparency and accountability.

Her professional career began at age nineteen (19) holding positions in public service at the State and Local government levels for forty (42) years. Stephanie has dedicated her talents by also working with non-profits and her church in capacities centered on programs benefiting and meeting the needs of others. She is the former City Manager for the city of Savannah. In this position she successfully led the city through troubled times, restoring employee confidence and producing a balanced annual budget for four (4) consecutive years during economic decline and revenue shortfalls all while maintaining service levels and the property tax millage rate. All without employee layoffs accomplished through the enhancement of organization efficiency and staff accountability.
